CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, the conclusion and suggestion are given in the last part in this chapter.

5.1 Conclusion

The purpose of this study was to develop EAP material using Content Based of Listening and Speaking Skill in English Academic Purposes for Elementary School Teacher Education Department at University Of Muhammadiyah Gresik. The researcher develops the materials based on the need analysis from interview with Lecturer of LC and Head of PGSD. Also need analysis questionnaire were distributed to twenty-eight students of PGSD. The result of need analysis showed that the lecturers expect to be more directed to students-centered in the learning process. So, the students are more active and confident in learning English. While from questionnaire, it can be concluded that the goal of students in learning English is be a fluent listener and speaker and can be communicate using English. In the future, the students will use English for higher education, job and career. The students' English ability is currently at the beginner. They find difficulty in listening to audio, communicate using English and difficult to create a report using good grammatically. They mostly prefer to learn English related to PGSD with interactive materials, various activities, group work and projects in pairs.

In developing EAP materials the researcher used Content Based. The developed materials consist of six chapters including two skills that integrated. In each chapter there are language focus, vocabulary building, transfer, and reinforcement. In the first stage, the students had given an activity that can activate their background knowledge. Then the second stage is planning in which the students explore more about the topic discussed. The third stage, the students organize the important information they get then present the result of discussion in written or spoken form. The last is the students given questions, conclude and so on to measure their understanding about materials discussed.

5.2 Suggestion

For the result of developing material of this study, the researcher gives suggestion for the students, for future researcher and for the lecturer.

5.2.1 For Students

Students should be aware of the importance of English in their lives. EAP book development using Content Based of Listening and Speaking Skill in English Academic Purposes for Elementary School Teacher Education Department to explore further their ability in using English. Therefore, PGSD students should be more active and confident during the EAP learning process.

5.2.2 For Future Researcher

This research focuses only on book development using content based for PGSD students who attend EAP class at University of Muhammadiyah Gresik. Therefore, other researchers are expected to develop EAP books related to other majors in addition to PGSD as well as providing new innovations for the content of the book to be developed by using another approach or strategy.

5.2.3 For Lecturer

It is better if the lecturer provides EAP material related to the PGSD itself. In addition, lecturers also provide learning activities and varied types of tasks to students in which students can active during the EAP learning process. Thus the students can explore English using the material about PGSD through EAP learning. The role of lectures is very important in supporting and motivating students in learning English to make students interested so that the knowledge they gain can be beneficial for their future.
